SPRING: A BUSY TIME FOR THE SHEPARD AND HIS FLOCK

By W. H. Hicks

The lambing season is the most important period with the sheep flock. It is at this time that the shepherd must be on the alert to prevent loss of lambs and to give the ewes the necessary care and attention which mean increased revenue from the flock later in the year.

Taken for granted that only the best ewes i.e., those which are prolific, have healthy udders and are good milkers, have been bred, and that good, pure-bred rams have been used and that the ewes have had suitable care, attention, and feed during the winter, the conditions are such that a profitable lamb crop should follow.

As lambing time approaches, make the necessary preparations. Clip the wool from around the ewes' udders. Prepare hurdles or gates so that the ewe and her lambs may have an individual pen for a time. This will help in getting the ewes to own their lambs and will also assist in convincing ewes to adopt other lambs when necessary. Make every effort to save all lambs. Have the shed dry and free from drafts. A good light is necessary for the convenience of the attendant at night.

As the lambs arrive mark them so that production records of the ewes may be kept accurately.

After the lambs are a few days old, lamb creeps should be provided. It is surprising how quickly the young lambs will start to nibble a little grain and roots. Get them on grass as soon as possible.

Dock all the lambs when they are about two weeks old and castrate the males at the same time. These operations are absolutely necessary to proper shepherding.

ST. ANDREW'S GUILD MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Church was held at the home of Mrs. J. J. White on Wednesday afternoon. There was a splendid attendance of members. The president, Mrs. J. J. White, occupied the chair and opened the meeting. One new member was welcomed. It was decided to have the church grounds fenced in, and a letter was received giving an estimate of the cost. Other business was discussed and disposed of. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to making final arrangements for the military 500 and progressive bridge party to be held through the kindness of Mrs. Halketh at Shore Acres this evening. Prizes will be awarded the winners. Refreshments will be served and a social evening enjoyed. Refreshments were then served by Mrs. White, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. McKenzie and Mrs. McDaniel.

Dance at North Saanich

The North Saanich Social Club held their monthly dance in the club hall, School Cross Road, on Wednesday evening of last week. Owing to counter attractions the crowd was not as large as usual, but an enjoyable time was spent by all who attended. The hall had been prettily decorated for the occasion and the floor was in excellent condition. Promptly at midnight the Ladies' Auxiliary served the dainty buffet supper, and dancing was enthusiastically indulged in until a late hour. The N.S.S.C. six-piece orchestra, for whom the dance was put on, played excellent music. The orchestra has now entered the professional field, owing to the excellent manner in which they have progressed during the year.

GUILD CARD PARTY

The Women's Guild of St. Andrew's are holding a military 500 and progressive bridge party at Shore Acres, through the kindness of Mrs. Halketh, tonight, commencing at 8.15.

Oh, Girls!

Every now and then from Paris Comes another fashion wheeze, Girls, take notice! during Summer You must drape your Shapely Knees.

Please don't think that I am joshing— That's a thing I wouldn't do. But in case you hadn't heard it, I thought I'd risk telling you.

Soon the Joy of dainty Knee Caps Peeping from beneath the frills, Will have gone, perhaps, forever— How the Sheikhs will miss their thrills.

Bobbed heads—charming innovation, Touched-up lips and eyebrows please. But there's nothing so Bewitching As a Set of housemaids' Knees.

What more right have "Kilty Soldiers" Than you, to expose their "caps"? Every Sensible Human knows that Girls are simply "Female Chaps."

Heed ye not that tempter, "Fashion"— Carry on and do your Stuff, Wear your frocks the length you like them— Tease the Croakers, call their bluff.

If you're frightened for mosquitoes— Cheeky things they are, no doubt, Listen and I'll tell you how to Put the 'Skeeters to the rout—

Don't you worry—it's so easy, "Fly-tox" pads will do the trick. Pin a couple on your Stockings— Betcher life! they'll "hop it" quick.

Sidney Girl Weds

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Row, 1111 "Hillcrest," Sidney, when the Rev. Lees, of the United Church, united in marriage the youngest daughter, Doris, to Mr. Jack William Ashley eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ashley, Perdue, Saskatchewan. The bride's maid was Eileen, sister of the bride and best man Leonard Victor, brother of the bride. Only relatives and a few friends were present at the ceremony. After the reception the happy couple left on the mid night boat for Perdue, Saskatchewan, where they will make their future home.

Faith once moved mountains, but that was before one could fly over them.

Mrs. B. G. Hill and Miss Ivy Hill are visiting friends in Victoria this week.

The term, "The Period of the Regency," which is used in connection with "The Amateur Gentleman," the Inspiration picture starring Richard Barthelmess, showing tonight and Friday at the Auditorium Theatre, is one not often heard in literature and many people are curious as to its significance.

It gets its name from that period between 1810 and 1820, when George the Third went insane and his brother became Prince Regent. The costumes are of the Beau Brummell period, and in the story as told in the Barthelmess film, the hero, Barnabas Beverly Barty, was the first to introduce wide trousers among the social lights of London.

Barthelmess' good looks and fine physique stand him in excellent stead in this colorful drama. He cuts an even more dashing figure if that is possible, as Barnabas Beverly Barty than he does as Lieutenant Ranson in "Ranson's Folly," which was released before the completion of "The Amateur Gentleman."

The picture hurries along at a fast clip and is full of exciting incidents. Two of the most exciting are a fist fight which Barty wages against his father, the ex-heavyweight champ of England, and a thrilling steeplechase.

For the fight Dick went into stiff training for several weeks under the tutelage of Mickey McMin, the well known ring figure.

The steeplechase shown him actually jockeying. This was one of the most dangerous exploits in the film and Dick suffered a fall from which he narrowly escaped grave injury.

THE CHRONIC PESSIMIST

We stepped into his place of business (a sizable retail establishment) the other morning to make a purchase. The proprietor came up and as is customary, we said, "How is your business coming?" "Fine" he replied, "It dropped off a trifle last month, but on the whole it is very satisfactory." We told him we were glad to hear it, paid for our purchase, and departed.

A few hours later at a meeting we saw him in earnest conversation with a chronic pessimist, a man who, if he had a barrel of perfectly good apples would paw them all over hoping to find one that was specked and if he was fortunate enough to discover it, he would gleefully hold it up and say, "There, I told you so, you just can't trust anybody."

While of course we did not know what they were discussing, we always figure that a hard frost will injure tender plants and so we dropped in on the retailer later in the afternoon and said, "What you said this morning about the condition of your business seems to reflect general conditions and—"

"Yes, but wait a minute," he said, "I've been thinking it over and I tell you things don't look so good for the future. No sir! I'm going to haul in my horns I can tell you that."

The pessimist had by suggestion poisoned his mind. He had set the brakes on his judgment and we will guarantee that the crepe he draped over him reduced his efficiency at least 50 percent.

Handle your own brakes, don't allow a chronic pessimist to set you back.

We have been experiencing rather unusual weather here for the past week in the way of showers and an odd flake or two of snow and the atmosphere has been on the chilly side. However, one feels rather fortunate when the daily papers inform us of blizzards, floods, etc., in other parts of the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A CENTURY

It seems amazing what the world has accomplished in the 100 years of railroading. The human race has had a high degree of intelligence for probably 10,000 years, but it has gone ahead faster in the century since it had railroads, than in a thousand years previous.

Without railroads, people had to be jacks of all trades, and a person instead of devoting his attention to some one thing and making himself perfect in that, had to do a great many things. That prevented his accomplishing any great production. Under railroads we get minute subdivision of labor, machine operation, quantity production, and an enormous increase in output and wages. The world began to travel at a very fast rate 100 years ago when it got its railroads. Can the next 100 years bring any comparable development?

During the past week or so a number of settlers from Scotland, England and the Orient have located on the Saanich Peninsula or the Gulf Islands. Yes, Sir, they keep coming, and there is lots of room for more.

A SCANDAL MONGER

Why do you try to learn something of a derogatory nature about those you know?

Why make the simplest action appear as if it were to be questioned?

By innuendo and by other means, is it not your delight to circulate reports which cast a shadow upon the reputations of other persons?

What good do you get out of defaming another?

If you could overlook certain little indiscretions and think of the good that the same person has done and is doing, you might be better pleased with yourself.

What comfort do you get from your suspicions?

Perhaps your neighbor does do things that are puzzling you, but if you are not sure that they are wrong you have no right to judge from appearances.

Are you so good, so clean in your own record, so unafraid and unashamed as far as your own past is concerned that you can afford to keep picking others to shreds, regardless of the justice of your attacks?

There is none more merciless no more unfair than a scandal monger.

The Junior Section of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce seem to be persistent in their endeavor to establish an auto ferry service to Salt Spring Island, having recently appointed a committee to gather information and get in touch with various organizations in order to speed things up. However, we can see no immediate service looming up in that connection since the C.P.R. has announced that the Chasmer will carry cars on the run from Victoria to Vancouver via the Gulf Islands, but hope we are mistaken in our conclusion.

GIRL BABIES

This ought to be read by boys who are inordinately proud of their own vigor and who regard all girls as mollicoddles:

More boys than girls are born per unit of population, the census bureau finds. And why so? Because they have to be. Nature sees to that, and gives us 1,058 boys to 1,000 girls in an effort to keep up a proper balance. For boy babies can't stand the hardships of early life so well as girl babies. So many more boys die in infancy that, at the end of the first year, the girls, who started with a numerical handicap, have a big majority. More than 13 baby boys die to ten baby girls.

It is possible that the girls keep their physical superiority, too, though no boy will believe that. The mortality rate for all females in this country is very much less than the rate for all males. Which seems to mean that women stand illness better than men, and so live longer. Moreover, though few will agree to this, women in general have nearly always done more than men, and probably still do.

According to officials of the Puget Sound Navigation Co., so far this season tourists have been more numerous than during the same period last year. Here's hoping the traffic breaks all records for the entire season.

SKILL WITH HOME TOOLS

If you visit a farm home just before the spring begins, you would probably find the farmer quite busily employed in fixing up his tools for the season. He would be sharpening his cutting instruments, repairing his wagons and trucks, mending his harness, also patching up his buildings.

In these days when repair work costs much more than formerly, the farmer needs to be skillful in these home jobs. If he had to summon a mechanic from the nearest town when anything got out of order, it would eat a big hole in his receipts.

The people who live in cities and towns do not have such skill. In your town, many men are not good on repair work about their home places. They need more of this old fashioned skill. The householder of former days knew all about hammers and screwdrivers and paint brushes, and it was one way he got his start in life.

THE MODERN CROOK

The cartoonists used to depict crooks as rough, coarse, and fierce looking people. But according to the New York Times, the type of young men who are making a business of robbing stores, have a fondness for good clothes and are very fastidious.

One could guess that the desire to make a swell appearance with their girl friends, is the motive that prompts many of these fellows to do their dirty work. Their fine feathers will be wasted on the wardens and turnkeys of the jails where they seem to be destined to spend most of their lives.

THE CHAIN STORES AND THE FUTURE

Chain stores are going to fight the mail order houses of Canada. The small town merchant who hasn't the purchasing power of either, and must pay as much wholesale for his stock as the chain stores and mail order houses sell for cash will be caught between the two, with disastrous results, unless the small town merchants offset by judicious advertising and the building up of that old-time co-operation between town and country, which meant so much in the pioneer life of this community—or that.

The home-town merchant is going to have to save himself by joining his competitor in standing each for all and all for each.—Okanagan Commoner.

The doctor opened the door of his operating room and looked at the line of waiting patients and asked, "Who has been waiting the longest?" "I have," spoke up one individual very promptly. "I'm the garage man who fixed up your car about four months ago."

And only smiled when the Jones Airedale nipped him.

IN MEMORIAM
BERQUIST — In loving memory of my dear father, Andrew Berquist, who passed away April 21, 1924.
Just a thought of sweet remembrance
Just a memory fond and true,
Just a token of affection
And a heartache still for you;
Just a sigh for olden moments,
Just a smile of love anew,
Just a tear in silence falling
And a yearning still for you.

A bill to establish a fish, game and wild life sanctuary in the interior of Nova Scotia has been passed in the Legislature. A large single shipment of motor oil, a solid trainload of 26 cars of Marvelube, left Sarnia for various points in the west, but mostly for Vancouver. The oil is a Canadian-manufactured product which has been developed within the past year. At Fort William the special train was handed over to the Canadian Pacific Railway for exhibition along its lines.
A great future for tobacco growing in Western Ontario is predicted by the Hon. J. S. Martin, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, who states that counties engaged in this industry have demonstrated that they can grow as fine tobacco leaf as Kentucky or Virginia. A number of experts have been engaged, he announced, to visit new growers and give them all information possible.
Supervising 200 Norwegian settlers, including wives and children, from the districts of Nottodden, Heddal and Valdres sections of Norway, Eric Platebo, chief clerk in the Canadian Pacific Railway offices at Bergen, saw the settlers off for Winnipeg from the Windsor Station, Montreal, fifty of the party are going straight to relatives. Mr. Platebo estimates that some 600 persons from the districts named will eventually come to Western Canada.
Via Canadian Pacific Railway recently there was forwarded to His Holiness the Pope an album of photographs of the Canadian Rockies offered by E. W. Beatty, Chairman and President of the system, following the suggestion made by a prominent Canadian citizen who had described the Canadian Rockies to His Holiness in an interview some time ago. A wish for a book showing views of the mountains was expressed by the Pope whose wish was conveyed to Mr. Beatty. The album is beautifully bound in white kid.

The development branch of the Department of Colonization and Development, Canadian Pacific Railway, has been active in furthering the establishment of this industry.

SOCIAL CLUB

The usual weekly evening of cards, supper and dancing was held in the club hall last Saturday with 14 tables in play. The prize winners were Mr. and Mrs. Sansbury. The winners of the high score prizes for the second half of the season were announced as follows: Mrs. Carter and Mr. Bert Reading and Mr. Carter tie.

The paper chase which was to have been held for the children on Monday was postponed on account of the weather, but it was held on Tuesday afternoon instead. Twenty-one children took part in the race while others arrived too late to join in. After an hour's run the hares (Dorothy Cater and Clifford Hill) raced home in good style to the club house, quickly followed by the pack, and all were refreshed with lemonade and cake provided by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the club. The children were loud in their demands for another chase and were promised that one would be arranged for them in the near future.

1—Seeing the world from the rear of the Trans-Canada. 2—C.P.R.'s most powerful locomotive will haul the Trans-Canada.
3—Through the scenic route of the Rockies. 4—Open air observation car a feature of the mountain journey.

Bettering the air mail's record in carrying mail across the continent is not in the regular scheme of things for the Trans-Canada Canadian Pacific's stellar summer transcontinental train. The facts of such an incident are brought to hand through the announcement from headquarters of the Canadian Pacific that the Trans-Canada will begin to operate between Vancouver, Toronto and Montreal from the middle of May till about the end of September. Each a record was made in the middle of last July and was unintentional. By a coincidence letters were forwarded to one of the officials in Montreal by air mail and by the Trans-Canada both being stamped at approximately the same hours and date. From the evidence it was shown that the letters forwarded by train arrived about 10 hours ahead of the air route.

of the company bore in mind many details that afford comfort and conveniences to the traveller. It takes this great train only 59 hours and 15 minutes to run between Montreal and Vancouver and about three hours less from Toronto. The schedule has been so arranged that the train arrives and departs from the principal business centres across the continent at suitable hours. The traveller who wished to make boat connections at Atlantic and Pacific ports have been kept in mind; and the vacationist visiting the Canadian Rockies who wishes to reach its beauty spots quickly and at convenient hours. In arranging for all this the schedule of trips has been cut to a skeleton making the journey all the more enjoyable. The train, with the exception of certain concessions to parlor car passengers, carries only shore of the Great Lakes to Winnipeg, once the Port of Call of the Hudson's Bay Company, then across the prairies, which have not yet ceased to echo with the warblings of the now peaceful Indians; through the Rockies with their memories of Fraser, MacKenzie, Palliser and Rogers, and down at last to Vancouver which was once furrowed by the heels of the Spaniards. The Trans-Canada links the whole.

One of the features of the company's most up-to-date equipment used on this train is the new locomotive of the well-known 2300 class. The 2300 type, the very latest model which will be used in the most powerful of the company's engines. The equipment is situated throughout, the standard of being of the latest type and is uniformly appointed. In the comfort
